To whom it May concern:

Receive a cordial and respectful greeting. Through these lines I wish to inform you that the No Leader Team working group, who worked responsibly in the organization of your programming project and who had an impeccable conduct throughout the process. They have proven to be people totally linked to their work and have always expressed concern to improve, train and update their knowledge.

His program as such still has some flaws, but generally it works, the main idea is fulfilled and also the purpose of improving the labor field where I work is noticeable.

Without anything else to refer to and thanking the boys for their interest, I hope this letter will be taken into account.

Sincerely,

Erika Rivadeneira
